

Sandy has written a practical guide for all of us who are aging and/or have aging parents. Having experienced the pitfalls and lack of information first hand, she has given us an invaluable resource to deal with many of the common problems that inevitably arise at this stage of life. We are grateful to her for putting it all together for the rest of us.

James G. Pelton M.D.

This book is written for the love of my dad. For years, I kept records of his financials and stayed in touch with his physicians even though we lived across the country from each other (I in Washington, he in Florida). Whenever I called, he would say, "We are getting by." He was a successful businessman who took over the bills and financial responsibilities-and maintained the home as best he could-while caring for my mother, who had Alzheimer's. Eventually it all took a toll, and thank goodness I had the records.
